To one of my best friends & To one of the greatest kids ever. You're a Real funny kid and stay that way. Don't change anything but your last name and change that to (Hornbeager.) Keep your sweet smile and your great personality & you'll go far. Never forget all the fun we had & things we talked about. Don't ever forget Biology with the worms, crayfish, & Frogs. Also never forget the class trip & the things we did. I'll miss you if you go to S.V., But keep in touch with me anyway. Luck & success in all you do (with Gary) for you deserve it. I have to go now so Bye & A.F.A

Ruth.

What do I say to a girl I love? Be good! Stay clean! Well I dont know. What I do know is is to be only the best. Always strive for perfection. As the old saying goes: "Only first place counts."

Believe yourself when you leave the home - make new friends but never forget your old ones. I expect alot from you more than from Dave. Dennie, Sandy or myself - so dont let me down. You got the guts and ability to do what you want so Go ahead girl.

Your brother,

Ralph.

Our faces mirror emotions:
The joy of victory,
The anguish of defeat,
The pleasure of success,
The heartlessness of failure,
The contentment of knowledge,
The perplexity of the unknown,
The beauty of love,
The wretchedness of hate,
The apprehensiveness of the future.
These are our reflections.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Walter A. Rohrbach — Superintendent

It seems appropriate for seniors in their yearbook theme to "reflect upon the past and present" before embarking upon the future. Looking at the present we can appreciate many opportunities we enjoy compared with those who passed this way before us. Yet many happy, successful and satisfying lives grew out of the ideals and perserverance learned in the schools of the past. We can infer, then, that contemplation of the past and present in anticipation of the future must be a personal experience. It is something we do for ourselves.

The wisdom of reflection is expressed in an old French proverb which states, "A wise man reflects before he speaks. A fool speaks, and then reflects on what he has uttered." Franklin said, "Think twice before you speak, or act once, and you will speak or act the more wisely for it." Coleridge concludes that, "There is one art of which every man should be a master — the art of reflection. If you are not a thinking man, to what purpose are you a man at all?"

Best wishes to the Class of 1970!!

Sincerely,
Walter A. Rohrbach
Superintendent

Principals Reflect On The Passing Years.

Terry W. Reber – High School Principal

One of the most precious of human faculties is memory. When man is not occupied with tasks requiring mental concentration, he reflects on the memories of the past or contemplates the present and the future. Your yearbook portrays the interesting present; yet, at the same time, the book becomes a historical dialogue for the not to be forgotten past. The highlights of the year are there – the vivid pictures of beauties appreciated, the heartwarming reminiscences of friends enjoyed, the satisfaction of recalling work well done.

Reflect upon your present blessings of which every man has plenty. The times that "try men's souls" are periods when men reflect upon the meaning of their existence and that which has given them sustenance, protection, and freedom. Life presents a challenge which reflects upon this past experience.

Congratulations to the Weicon staff and good luck to the Class of 1970.

Terry W. Reber
High School Principal

Norman B. Dinger – Ass't H.S. Principal

Reflections of the past and the present give one an excellent chance for philosophizing, especially since change seems to be the order of today's society. We may not approve of many of these changes, but they are taking place. It is true that many of these so-called changes are merely old ideas dressed up in new terminology or are created by individuals and groups for such purposes as increasing sales or gaining a following, political or otherwise. However, change can clear the cobwebs from old ideas and enable us to see solutions more clearly. Change is, however, a dynamic force and opposes those who are content with things as they are. To the "have's", it is the status quo; but to the "have-not's", change is the hope. With technology moving as it is, we had all better prepare ourselves for change with all the resources at our command. If we do this, we will find life an interesting challenge. It may be different, but it will move. Your graduation indicates you were able to move along so far. We trust you will continue to move on progressively in the future.

Congratulations
Norman B. Dinger

John B. Stoltzfus – Elementary Principal

When one reflects on past and present educational experiences one must evaluate accomplishments in terms of achievement and character
In the individual
the WILL is the source of achievement and character
The importance or will in individual and social life follows from its function and may be indicated in the following ways –
It keeps the intellect at work or lets it idle
It keeps passion or unseemly emotions in subjection
or lets them overwhelm us
It realizes the capacity which nature heredity bestows or wraps it in a paper napkin
It improves the opportunity which environment allows or fatally neglects it
It stems the current of adverse circumstance or drifts indifferently to an alien port
It is through example which appeals to one's own personality that education becomes effective
The very best wishes to all members of the Senior Class of 1970

School Board — Weiser's Decision Makers

STANDING: Mr. Charles Tothero, Mr. George Manbeck, Mr. Kenneth Yoh, Mr. Allen Mucher, Mr. John Strickler, Mr. Walter Rohrbach — Superintendent SEATED: Mr. David Henderson, Mr. Kenneth Long, Mrs. Edith Spohn — Secretary, Mr. Charles Hartman — President, Mr. George Werner

During this year's senior class's twelve years of education many changes have occurred that either directly affected the school board or happened as a result of its actions.

Among the more outstanding of these events was moving into the new high school, which was completed in 1959. A few years later a union school district was formed. As a result, the individual school districts disappeared and the school board gradually diminished from 35 members to its present membership of nine.

In our elementary years, under the guidance of the school board, Conrad Weiser became an accredited high school. Some of the more recent evidences of the school board's tremendous concern for the student's welfare are the participation of Conrad Weiser in the vocational technical program, the construction of a new elementary school serving two centers, and football, a decision which affected every member living in the Conrad Weiser school district.

The purchase of new band uniforms is the present undertaking of the school board.

SENIOR OFFICERS: Donald Barron – treasurer, Pasty Hertzog – secretary, Pete Geiss – vice-president, Jack Kuhn – president

As with the senior classes who have gone before us, not only will we be remembered for some of our accomplishments, but also there are memories we ourselves would not like to forget.

In seventh grade we learned to know each other. The winter was filled with the excitement of our basketball wins led by those revered seniors Bob Wertz, Jerry Rabold, and Scott Burkhart.

Our eighth grade year was rather uneventful. In the middle of the year was the student council election with Bruce David Snyder emerging victorious as junior high vice-president. The biggest thrill of the year came with our class trip to Philadelphia on chartered buses.

In ninth grade we began to show we did have talent. This was proved in our successful musical, SO THIS IS PARIS, with Karen Riegel and Brad Glassmoyer playing the lead roles. Later in the year several members of our class represented our school in junior high county chorus.

Tenth grade showed no outstanding accomplishments, but a few athletic stars began to emerge, Jack Kuhn and Jake Zerbe in basketball and Bob Yiengst in track and cross country.

The beginning of our junior year brought something new. Football made its first appearance at Weiser. The first season proved so successful that the next year we entered into varsity competition. The 1968-69 basketball season will be hard to forget. With the loss of our star, Jack Kuhn, our team proved its skill in the district plays-offs with the abilities of the other members of the basketball team. Our scholastic ability was displayed by the admittance of members of our class to the National Honor Society and by Nancy Ulrich, who is a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program. The last effort put forth by our class as juniors was the 1969 Prom, "Memorable Moments."

Our last year has so far been proving to be the best. Suzie Knoll represented our school well in her performance as Conrad Weiser's junior miss. Homeroom H-4 broke the record for PSB sales, reaching a total of close to $600. This year brought one of the finest hockey teams Weiser ever produced with many members of the team being seniors. Conrad Weiser will be represented again in district band, chorus, and orchestra by students from Weiser, five of them being seniors. Gary Luckenbill has brought credit to our school in the music department by representing Weiser in at least 14 county, district, and region festivals. The cast of the successful drama club play, TOM JONES was comprised mainly of seniors with Kevin Kershner and Jane Eshbach playing the parts of Tom Jones and Sophia Western. Bobby Yiengst made Weiser known when he placed second in the cross country state meet. At present the senior class of 1970 is working to make this year's Christmas dance, "The Magic of Silver Bells," the best Weiser has ever seen.

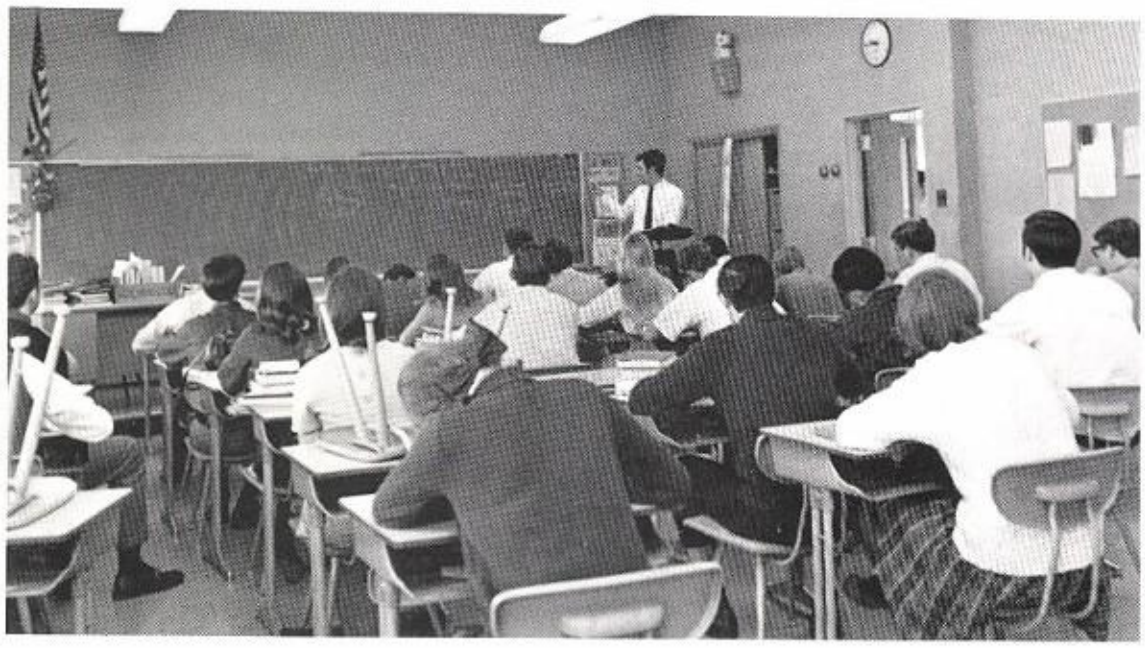
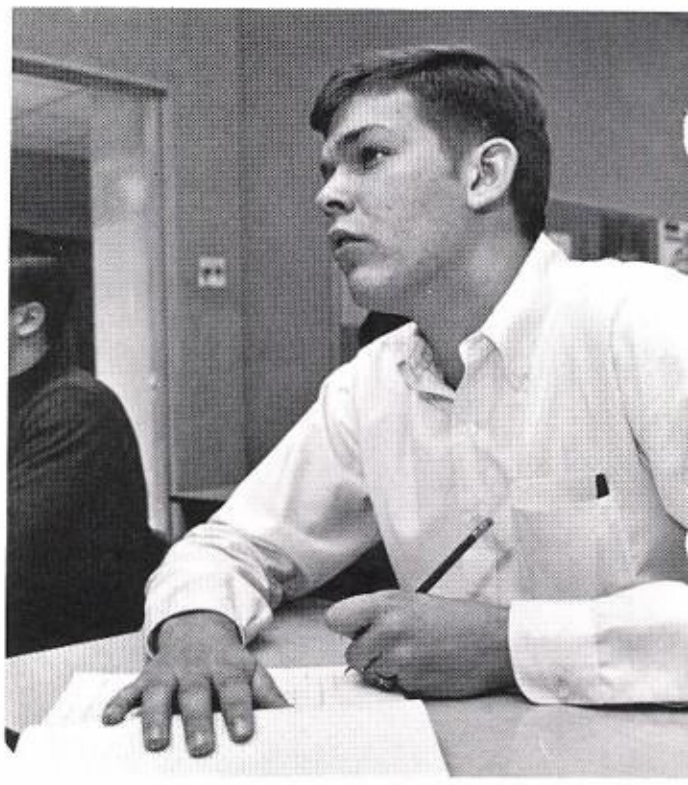
CURRICULUM
ORIENTATION

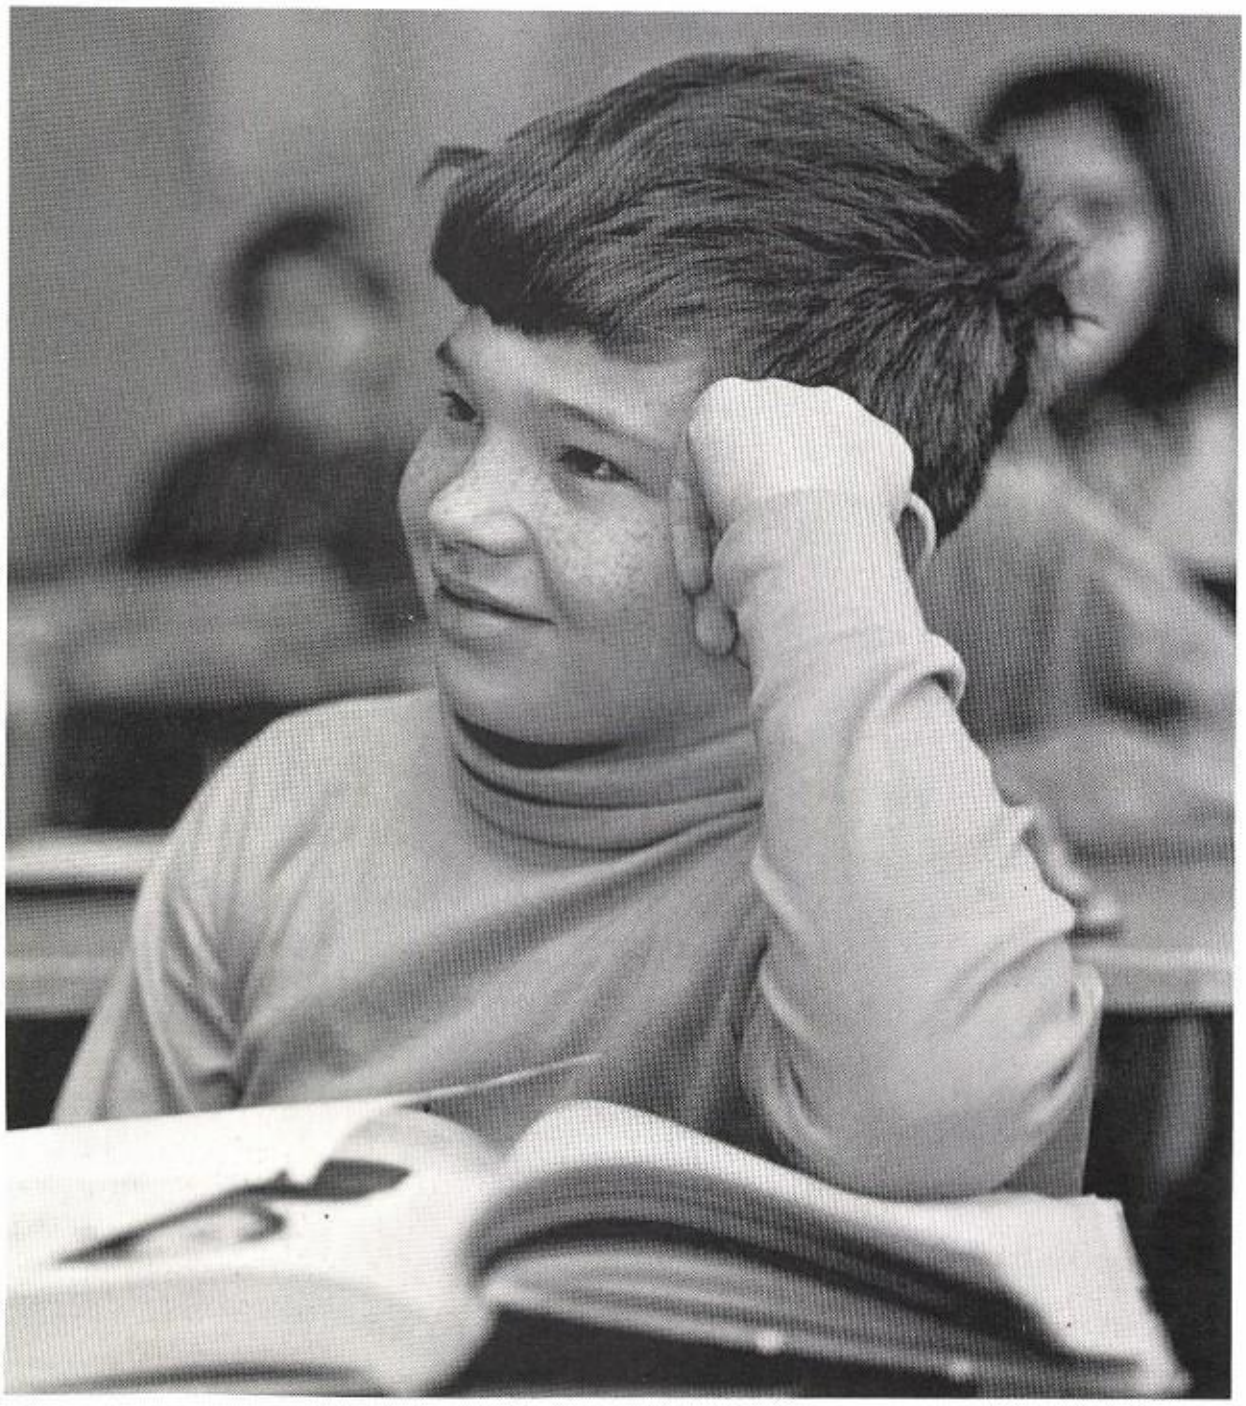
Studies In Grammar, Writing, And Literature Provide Interesting English Courses For All Grades.



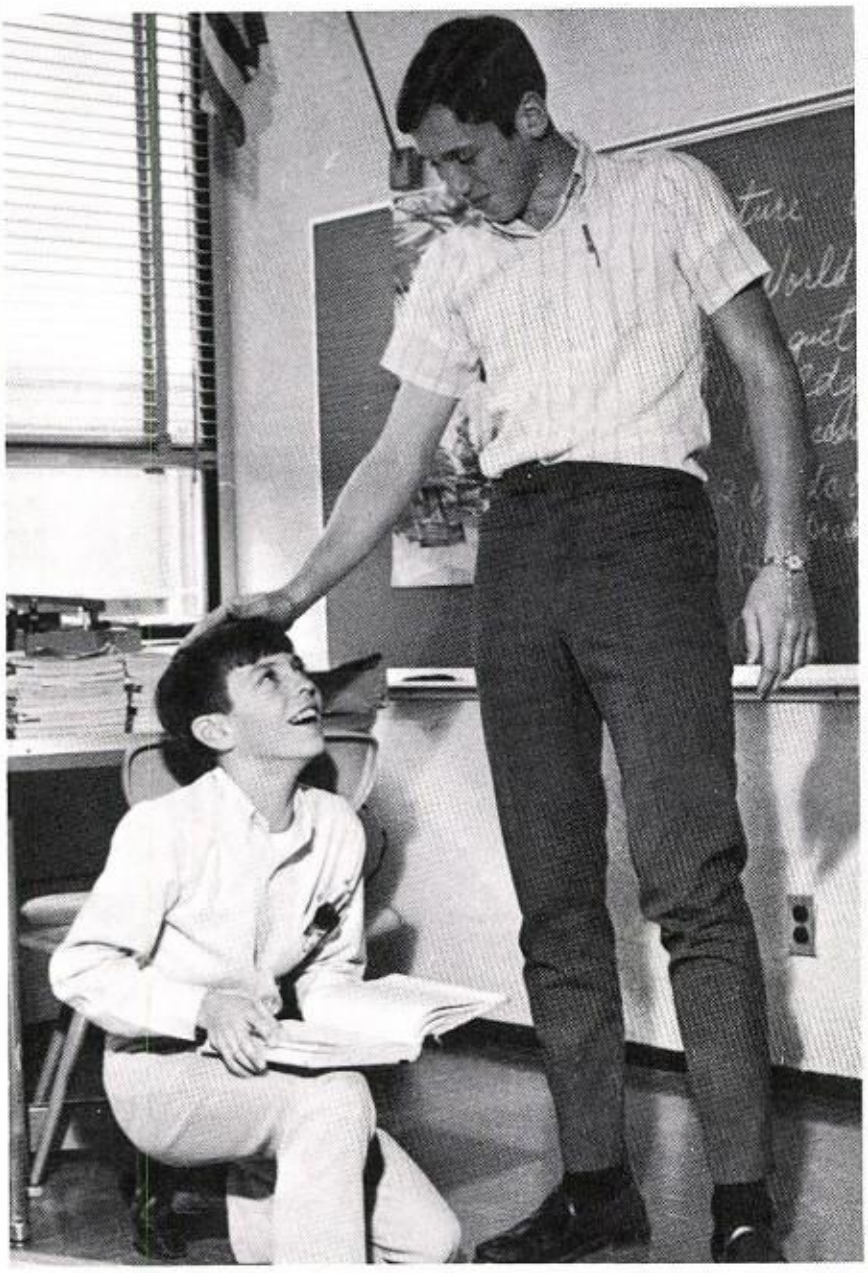
You've finally reached Mr. Shaner's Lit. classes that you heard so much about.

English is still interesting to Jack Kuhn, a senior.





The excitement of seventh grade English is reflected in the eyes of Robert Hill, and you can be sure that his enthusiasm won't be lost in the years to come.



In ninth grade English, students read and act out short plays and stories.

Remember seventh grade and all of the conjugations that you had to learn?

An eleventh grade class takes a test in grammar, one of the three classes in triangular English.

"Open your books, boys; it's time for reading class."

Ninth grade, ah yes, that was the year for the "Monkey's Paw."

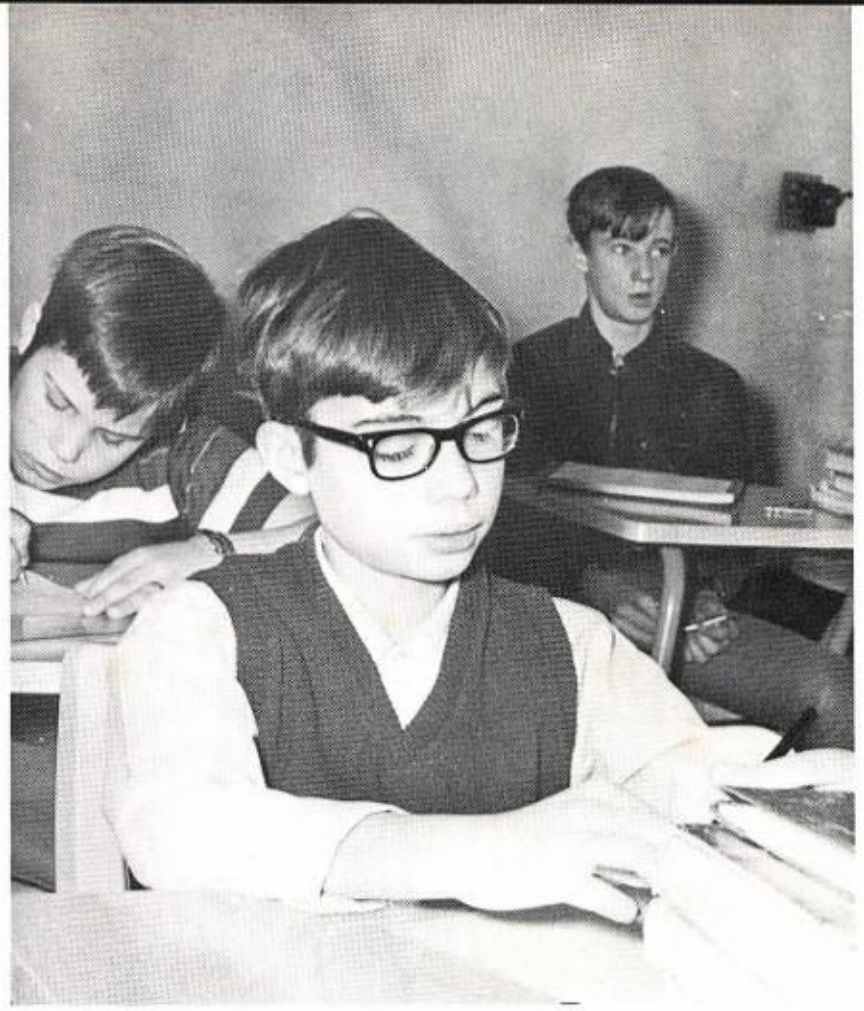
R. Lafollette and J. Rittle rewind a film about China produced by Mr. Gibson and his World Cultures class.



Mr. Golden's lecture about ancient Rome has captured Dale Guildin's complete attention.

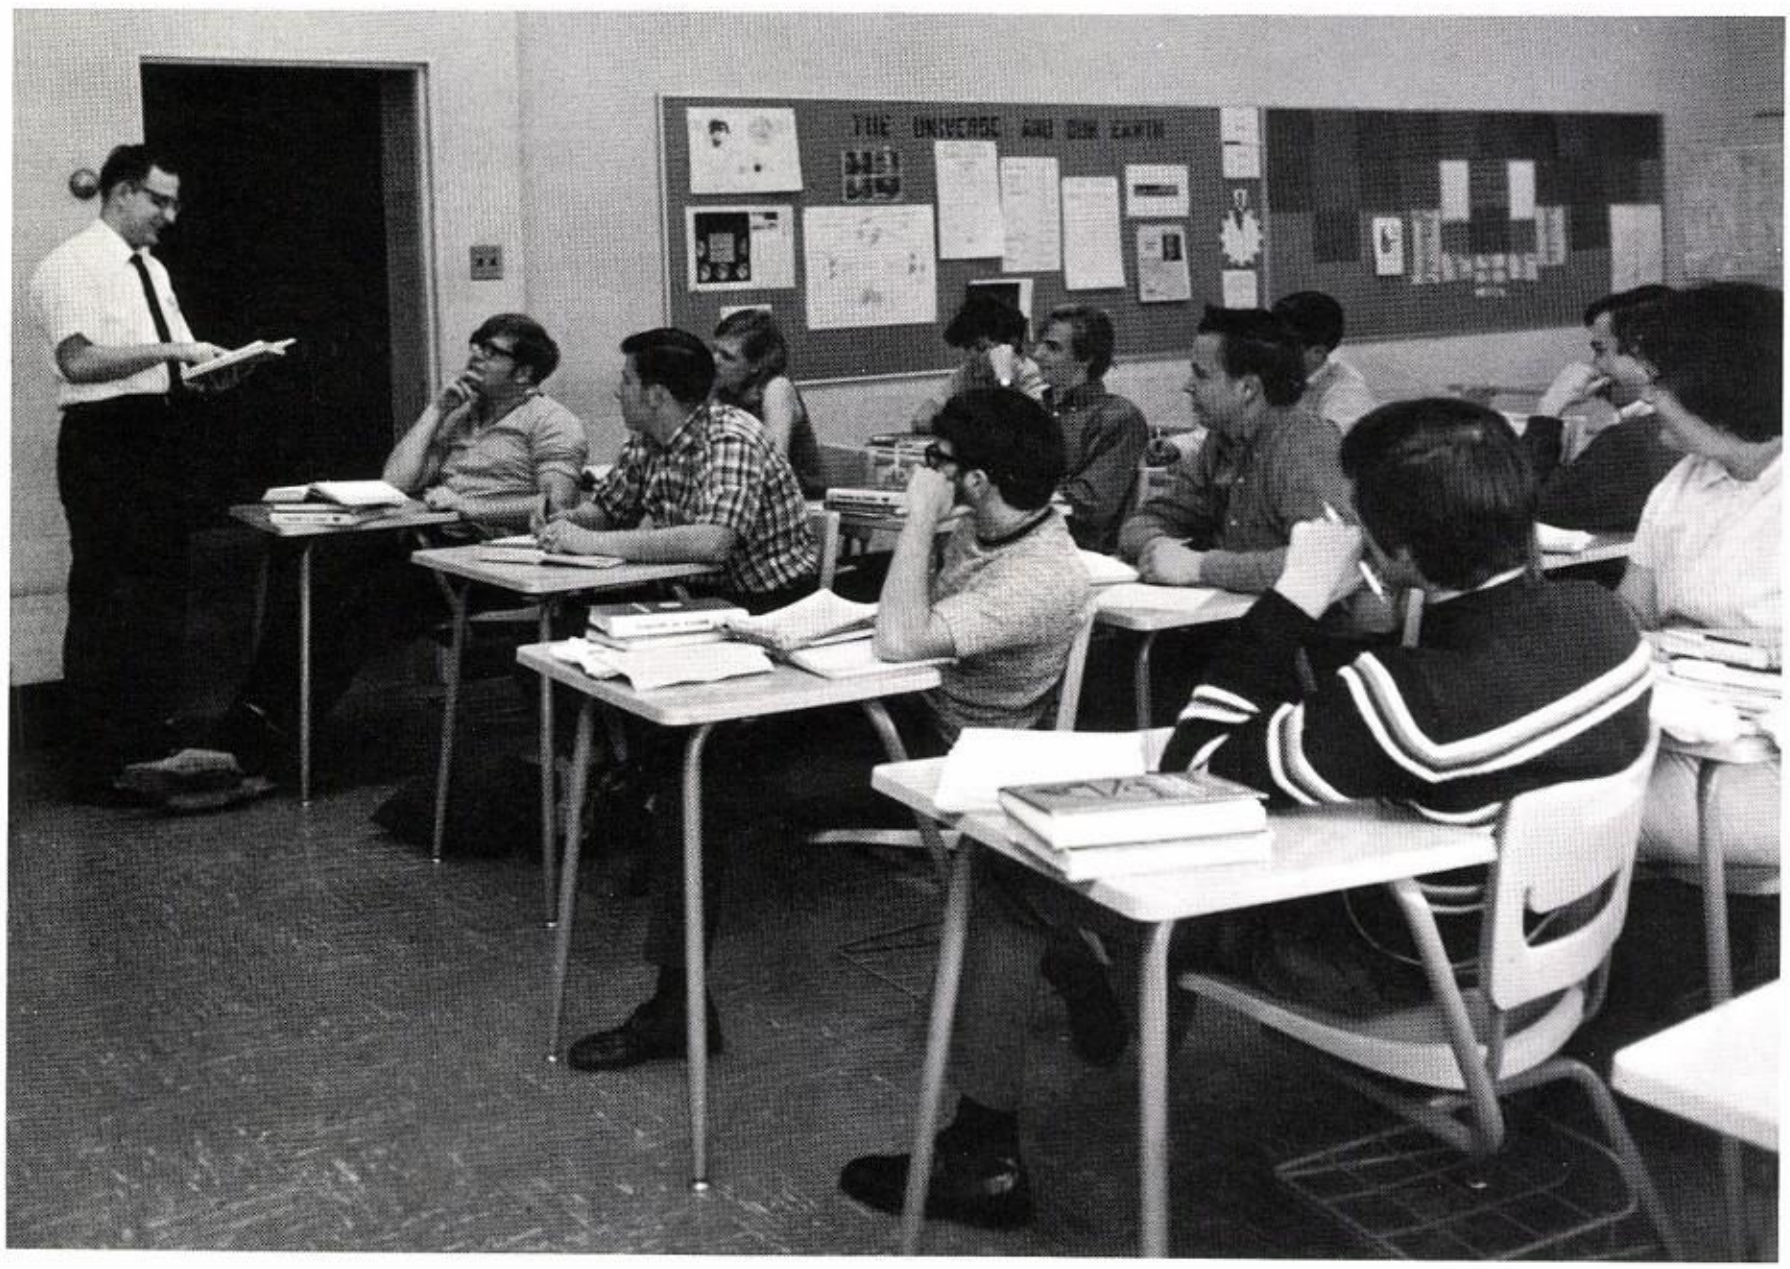
Chris Heck follows Mr. Siefarth's suggestions about taking notes while she reads her assignment.

The bulletin board in Mr. Gibson's room broadens his lectures in World Cultures.

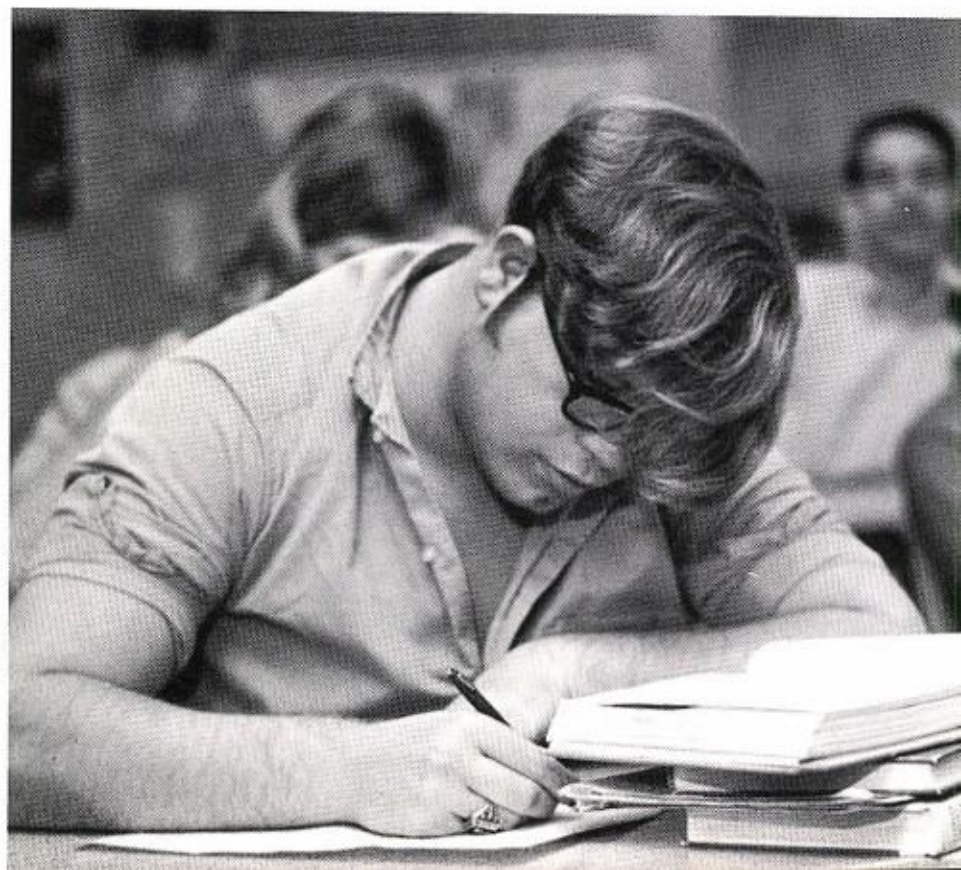
Weisers World Cultures course familiarizes all eleventh grade students with China.

Mr. Himmelberger and his ninth grade students keep C.W. up to date on current events.

Modern Math Courses Devel

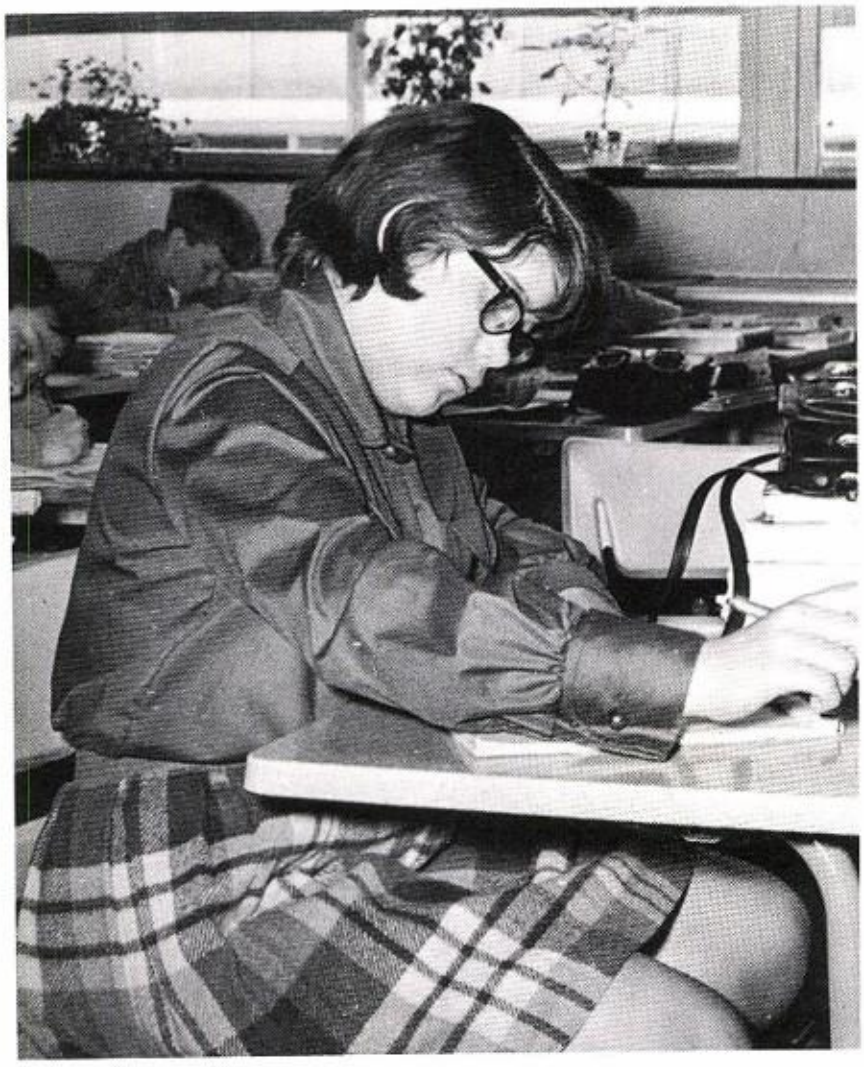


Mr. Wilkinson reviews a problem with the senior vo-tech class.

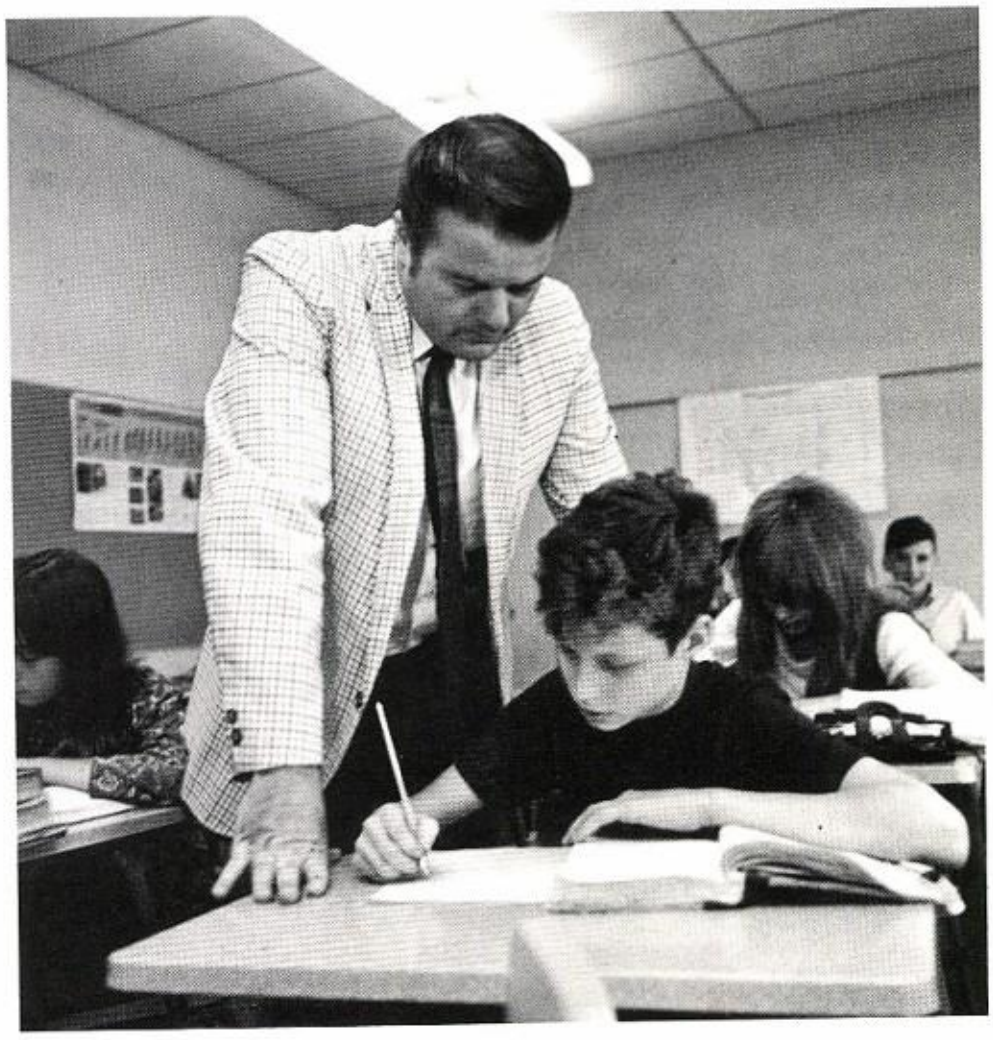


Henry Zettlemoyer works diligently to keep up his consumer math notebook.

op Skills For The Future.

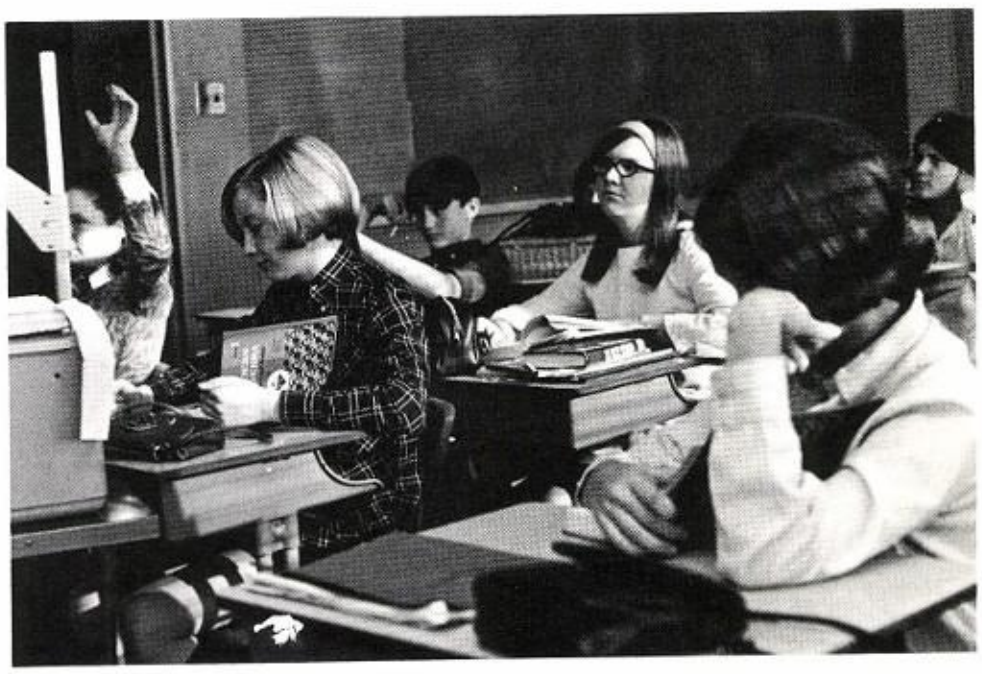


Darcelle Hassler concentrates on a tricky problem.



Mr. Rissinger, a new addition to the math department, gives R. Kreider some help with his algebra homework.

An eighth grade math section pays close attention as Mr. Rissinger dictates the quiz on the day's lesson.



Only one person seems to know the answer to Mrs. Dinsmore's question.

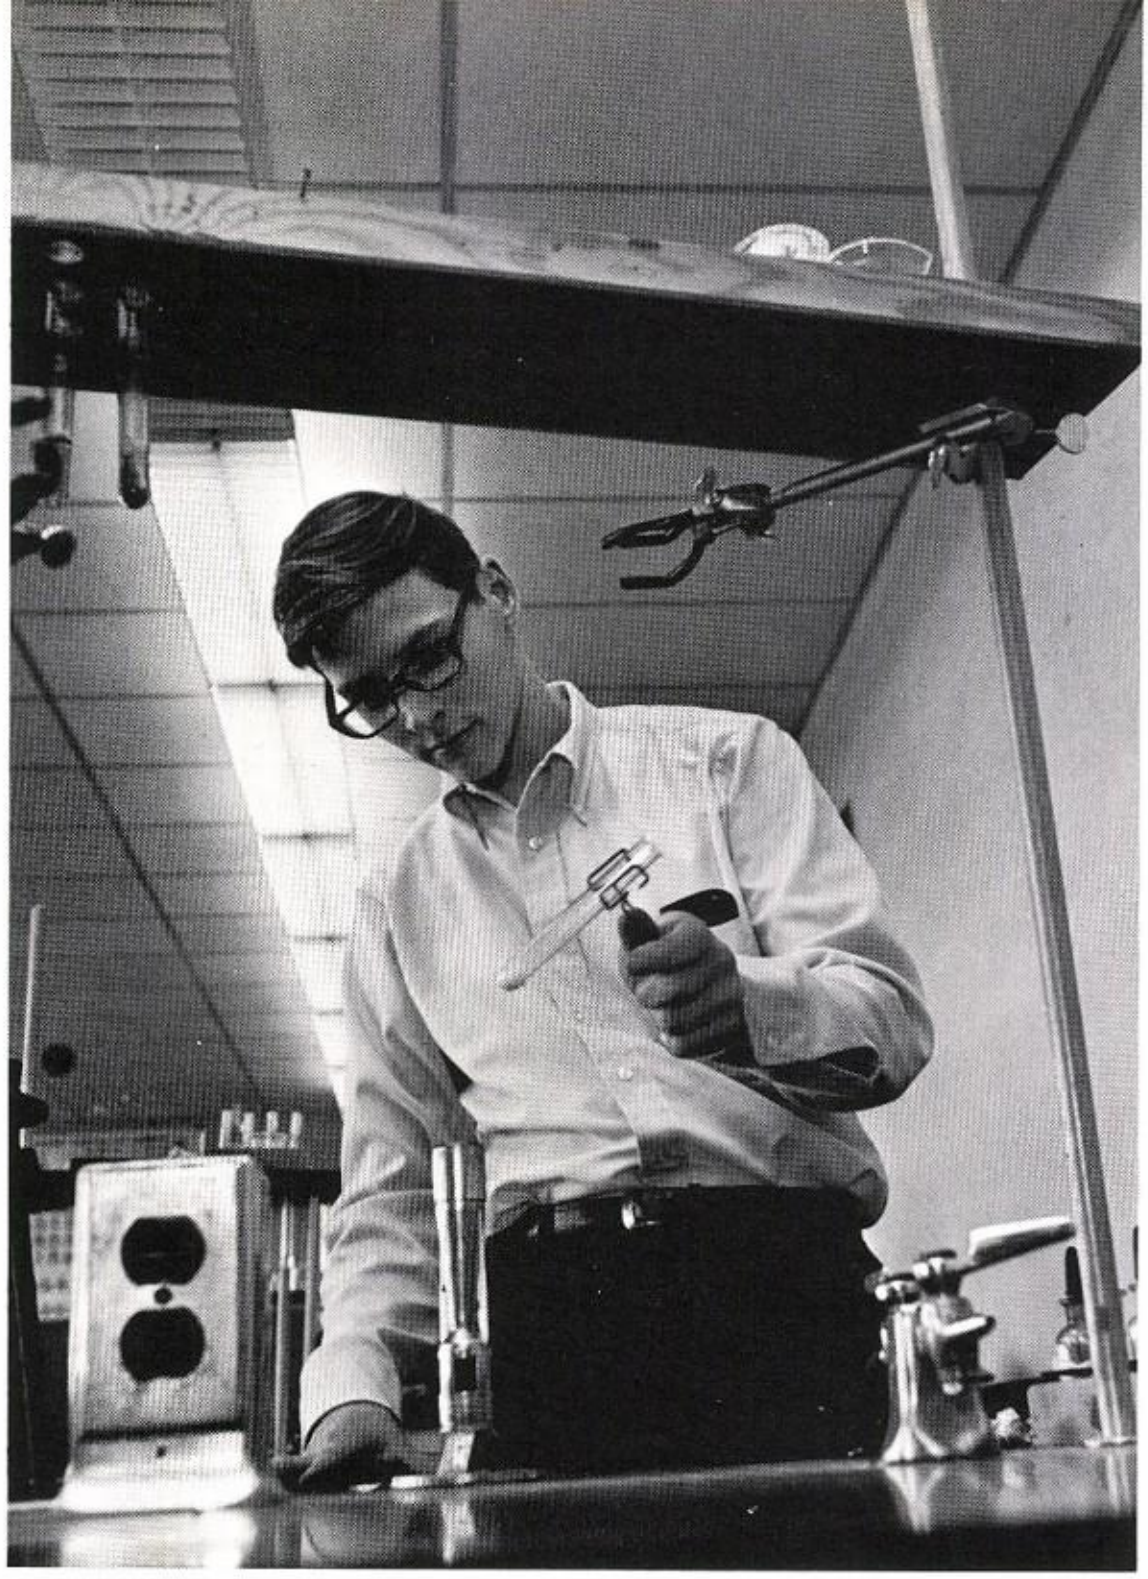
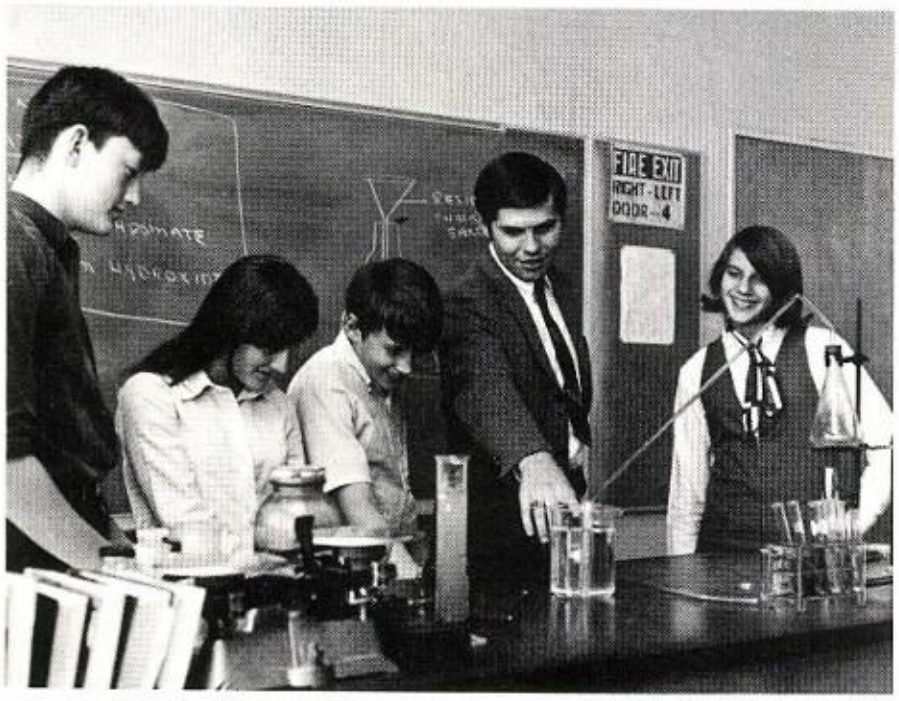
Mr. Rodney D. Hermann
9th Grade Science

A seventh grade science section learns about water and its properties.



D. Barron, a senior, performs an experiment in his advanced chemistry classes.



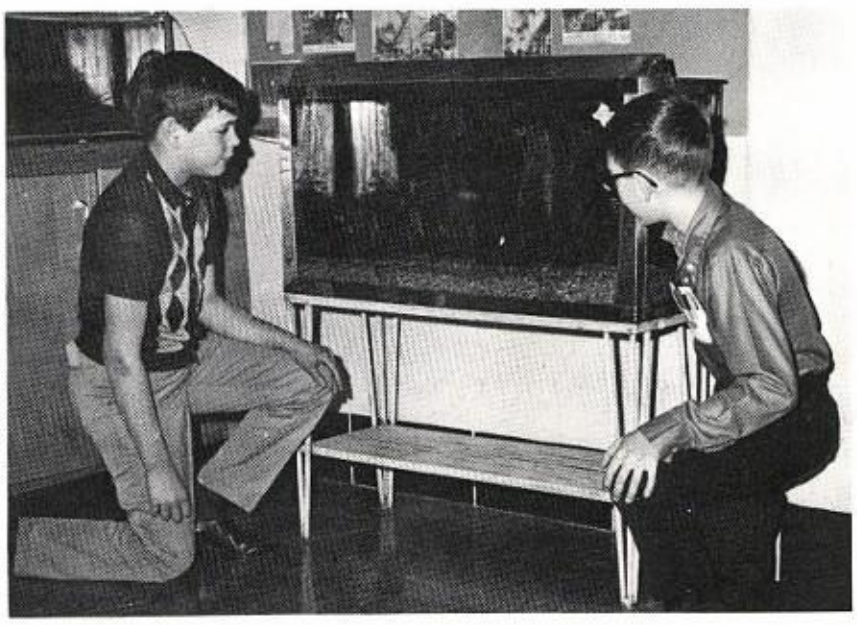
Mr. Hermann uses actual experimentation to aid scientific concepts.

Eleventh grade chemistry students huddle around Mr. Stern's desk to confirm their hopes of success on their chemistry tests.

Apparently science is not interesting to everybody.

Mr. Breininger explains to K. Garnett, D. Moyer, and D. Moser how these mice are used in one of his tenth grade biology experiments.

R. LaFollette studies a prized item of Mr. Breininger's stuffed collection.



L. Stauffer and S. Hassler are fascinated by the life of aquarium inhabitants.

The 1969 Cross country Team set a fast pace this season. Remembering that low score wins, victories were run against Reading, Wilson, and Hamburg, all with a final score of 28-27. Elco was also beaten by the Scouts (19-36). Five losses were suffered when the team met Owen J. Roberts (32-35), Muhlenburg (30-25), Governor Mifflin (32-23), Exeter (32-23), and Daniel Boone (30-25).

Eiceman Ends Career Undefeated On Home Mat

The wrestling team, composed mainly of underclassmen, spent many hours in preparation for their matches. Although there were more losses than wins, a lot of ability was displayed in individual performances. Gary Eiceman, senior and captain of the team, represented Weiser at the district wrestling tournament two years in succession. There is hope for a much improved team next year. Wins included Exeter (35-26), Hamburg (33-19), Brandywine (27-25), Elco (39-14), and Tulpehocken (35-14). Losses were Daniel Boone (31-22), Kutztown (27-9), Fleetwood (40-11), Oley (31-15), Schuylkill Valley (31-16) Palmyra (37-14), Governor Mifflin (43-3), and Muhlenberg (29-26).

Have You Got The Spirit? . . . Yea Man

Ruthie, you're a great kid I'll never forget. Always remember our good times as "cellmates" way back in Brobst. I wish you all success and happiness in your new home. Someday I'll get out of this hole too, I hope. Always be as good as you can and you'll succeed.

A good friend always,
Joanne

This year was highlighted by the organization of the Big Blue, a group composed of members of both the jr. and sr. bands interested in performing during the football half time ceremonies. Precision was stressed continuously from the first practice in mid-August until the last performance at Wyomissing on November 1.

New band uniforms at last became a reality this year. Through donations from local civic organizations and earnings from parades, a candy sale, and a chicken barbeque sale, a total of $11,846.96 was obtained. The uniforms are expected to arrive in time for the spring concert in May.

The musical, BYE, BYE BIRDIE, was held at Conrad Weiser on April 10, and 11. The story is about a pop singer, Conrad Birdie, who has to leave for the service.

In order to make her fiance, Albert Peterson, a success, Rose Alvarez plans a contest which Kim MacAfee, a typical teenage girl, wins. Kim's grand prize was to appear on the Ed Sullivan Show with Conrad Birdie singing "One Last Kiss," Albert Peterson's song written just for the occasion. The song made a success of Albert Peterson, and Kim MacAfee received her kiss from Conrad Birdie.

"Bye Bye Birdie"

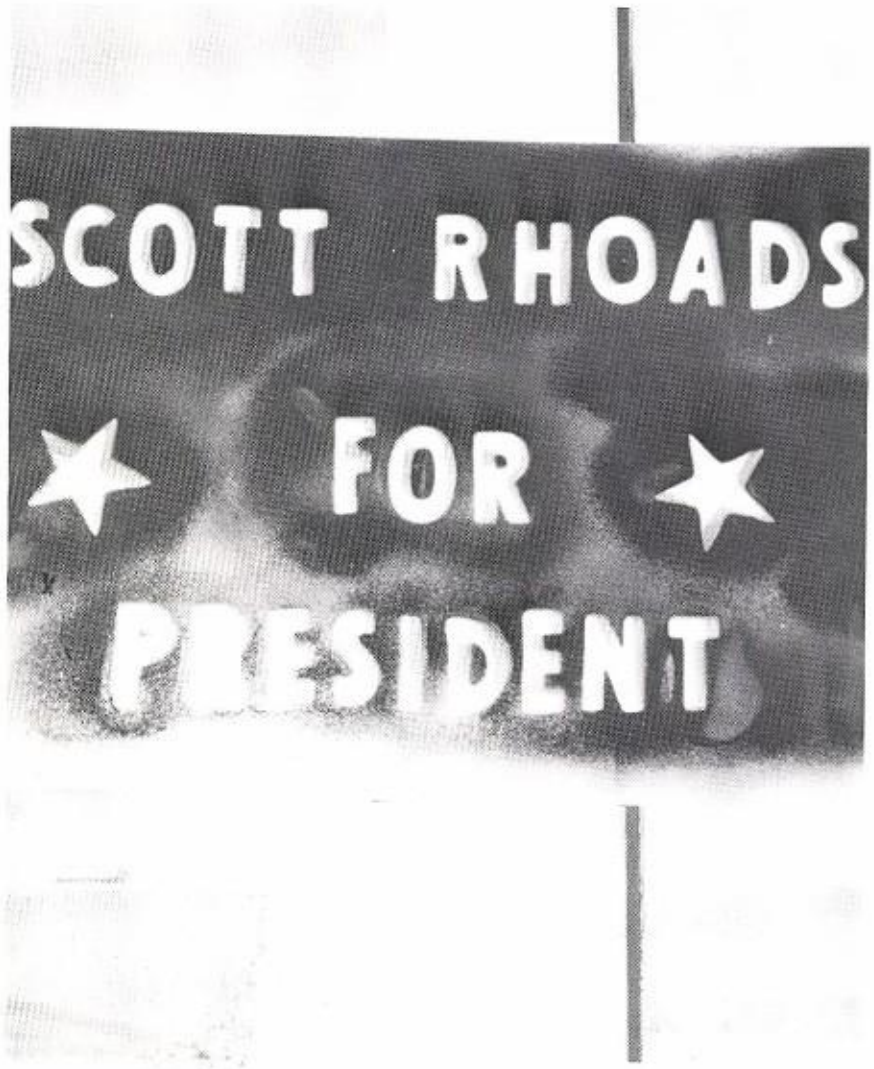
How do students voice their opinions about school policies? The answer is naturally through the Student Council.

The council has a long list of accomplishments. Along with its regular duties of preparing an activity calendar, keeping the indoor activity calendar up to date, operating an efficient snack bar, sponsoring the Morp, and coordinating field day, the council has taken on an additional outdoor activity calendar and a foreign exchange program.

Terry Wolfe, president of the council, and his able co-workers, Scott Rhoads, vice president; Cindy Eisenbise, secretary; and Tim Everline, treasurer; have sold sportswear to help defray the cost of the Morp.

1969-1970 has been a year of endless work for the council, and the rewards are evident throughout the school.

Officers elected to carry on the council's work next year are president, Scott Rhoads; vice-president, Kitty Kintzer; secretary, Vicki Moyer; treasurer, Fred Gerhart; and junior high vice-president, John Santamour.



This is an example of one of the many campaign posters which can be seen in the halls prior to the Student Council elections.

Ruthie,

I hope you don't mind me writting again. Yes I'll always remember the good times. I'll never forget you. You are the type of person who is great just the way you are. Every time I talk to you or see you, I stop & think of that great time when I was going with you. I would do anything to live that all over again. Yes every day I hope & still am hoping that their would be another chance. But I guess only time will tell. R.M.A. Love
